Discussion Questions

1. According to verses 8-11, why does God provide and increase resources for His people? What purposes does Paul give for God's provision?
2. In verse 10, what does Paul mean when he says God will "increase the harvest of your righteousness"? How does the context help us understand what kind of "increase" Paul has in mind?
3. Trace the results of the Corinthians' generosity in verses 11-14. What happens in the lives of the givers, the recipients, and ultimately in their worship of God?
4. Where has God given you more than you need; not just financially, but in time, abilities, relationships, or opportunities. How could you use that "more" for God's good work?
5. How has generosity shaped your character? What might God want to change in you through the practice of giving?
6. Paul ends this entire section by saying, "Thanks be to God for his indescribable gift!" (v. 15). How does remembering what God has given us in Christ change the way we think about what we give to others?
